

BIG SMOKER OPENS O.T.C. ACTIVITIES

Benefit Of Training Explained By Col Thompson M.C.

NINETY PRESENT

Major J. W. Jeakins M.M.
Assumes Command of
McGill Contingent

Habitat entertainers, smokers and speeches as well as community singing formed the major part of the entertainment at the C.O.T.C. smoker held in the Union Cafeteria last evening. Maj. Jeakins M.M. and Col. Thompson M.C. addressed the gathering and gave a great deal of information on the corps activities. Close to a hundred interested undergraduates were present to smoke the liberal supply of cigarettes provided and to enjoy the jovial offerings of Jimmy Rice and his two back-woodsmen. Cups won in last year's competitions were presented to the winners toward the close of the smoker and the evening ended in the consumption of a buffet supper.

The community singing was exceptionally good and nearly every popular song of McGill was indulged in. This part of the programme was led by Cadet Piper.

After the gathering lustily rendered "About a Million Years Ago" the O.C. Major J. W. Jeakins M.M. outlined the training for the coming year. He paid a warm tribute to Colonel Thompson for his energetic administration of the Unit during the past five years, to which his hearers showed agreement by prolonged applause.

Captain McGoun of Cavalry fame in a few words exhorted the Cadets to take the lectures provided them during the winter, as they were essential for the examinations. The medical work was explained by Captain Coates. He mentioned that the training of this department was in charge of doctors who had had vast experience during the war.

Between these talks Jimmy Rice and his jolly habitant kept the crowd in fits of laughter with their witty repartee. One about a private of the famous "Vingth Deux" addressing his pet feline was exceptionally popular with everyone. One habitant was exceedingly dexterous with the bones, and in accompaniment to the others fiddle, cut hair and cobbled the shoe in very effective fashion.

Colonel Thompson explained for the benefit of newcomers the whole system of training in an O.T.C. He felt that the Corps was extremely fortunate in having as its new head Major Jeakins, and told of the latter's broad war record and good work as adjutant of the Princess Pats.

A spirit of optimism prevailed and by the large attendance of newcomers all the officers voiced their satisfaction and prospects for a crack battalion this winter. After the conclusion of the meeting about fifty people lined up before the adjutant to enlist in the corps. It was pointed out that the majority of these newcomers have already seen previous service.

Among the new officers attached is a graduate from the University of Saskatchewan who is now in the Faculty of Medicine, Lieut. J. Sampson. Other officers present at the smoker were Lieuts. Vokes and Andrews R.C.E., Lieuts. DesBrisay, Pennel and Boyd.

MISS AMARON LEAVES FOR EAST

Will do Y. W. C. A. Work in Burma

Estelle Amaron, a sister of Errol C. Amaron, President of the Students' Council is leaving today on the C.P. O.S. "Empress of Russia", for Rangoon, the chief city of Burma, where she will take up work among the native girls under the auspices of the Y.W.C.A.

Miss Amaron was a gold medalist graduate in the class of 1926 and was president of the M.S.P.E., 1925-26 and a prominent member of the McGill Women's S.C.A. An outstanding athlete, Miss Amaron was a member of both the basketball and track teams.

She was born in Quebec but has made her home in Vancouver, B.C. for a number of years. Before coming to McGill she taught school for a short time.

FRIDAY'S FALL FROLIC NOW CANCELLED

The Union House committee has decided to cancel the 'First Fall Frolic' which was to have taken place this Friday evening. The sale of tickets proved so appallingly small when put on sale yesterday noon that the committee felt it would be futile to attempt to go through with the affair.

Sentiments expressed at the hastily convened meeting last evening strongly denounced the apparent apathy on the part of the students to such college functions. All workers in the preparations for the 'Frolic' thought that there is nothing better than a college dance staged in the Union to engender true campus spirit. The existing state of affairs with regard to these entertainments was generally deplored by all those who had devoted time to ensure the success of Friday's dance.

PETTY THIEVERY AGAIN REPORTED

Magazines and Periodicals
Reported Missing

CHINCHILLA OVERCOAT

President of Union States
Everything Being Done to Apprehend Culprit

Union officials report that petty thieves are again at large in the Union and have been stealing the magazines and periodicals out of the Reading Room. Apparently the thieves have a special liking for the illustrated magazines such as the Graphic, the National Geographic, and Punch. Other articles have also been disappearing lately. A couple of days ago an expensive chinchilla overcoat was taken out of the reading room and several articles have been taken from the billiard room.

Gordon Nairn, acting president of the Union, states that everything is being done to apprehend the criminal but the Union officials and employees cannot do very much without the co-operation of the students. Members of the Student's Council state that when the culprit is found they will endeavour to have him expelled from the University.

Nairn last night issued the following statement for publication.

"This is a most serious state of affairs in college life and it is up to all the students to co-operate with the Union House committee in seeing that the person or persons guilty of this thievery are brought to task and that their underhand actions are immediately put a stop to. I strongly believe in dealing very harshly with anyone apprehended in such practices, and I shall do my best to have the college purged of such an undesirable element. To stop this regrettable situation the co-operation of all the better thinking men around college is most necessary, as unaided the Union House committee is unable to cope with it as fully or as quickly as is necessary."

President Amaron made the following statement to the Daily regarding this stealing of periodicals:

"It has been brought to my notice that some frequenters of the Union Reading Room are stealing the illustrated magazines placed there for the benefit of the whole student body. Every effort will be made to find out who the guilty ones are. Extreme methods will be used to detect the pilferers and when these have been identified they will be dealt with by the utmost severity. This pilfering must be stopped—and that at once."

NEW MUSIC FOR BAND

University Band Will Function
at Saturday's Game

The McGill University Band is making its second official appearance, this Saturday, at the senior game with Hamilton, and for the occasion Band-leader Casey has announced the purchase of new music. The music consists mainly of Spanish dances of the Valencia type and a number of new marches.

These are very likely, totally new to most of the players, and as there is to be only one other practice before Saturday, it is really necessary to attend.

On Saturday the bandmen will be back in their original garb Red and White sweaters, since the blazers have been or should have been returned.

A full practice of the University Band is scheduled for this afternoon.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED BY PLAYERS CLUB

Archdale Succeeds Evans As President
This Year

FIRST PLAY SOON

Short History of Club Given at Well-attended
Meeting

It was with great regret that the Player's Club of McGill, accepted the resignation of its former president, A. B. A. Evans, last night, during the club's first meeting this year.

Evans whose good work is well remembered by all interested in the Club, explained that his studies took up practically all of his time, so that he is unable to carry on with his responsible position.

Alec Archdale, the Club's former Business and General Manager was elected by acclamation as the new President.

Earn was elected Vice-President, while C. Yule was elected as General Manager. J. Scott will continue his former good work as Secretary-Treasurer. This completed the list of governing officers for this year, while a committee to supervise the production of plays, shall be elected at a later date.

It was announced at the meeting, that Prof. S. Leacock has promised to write a play for the Club, and it is the intention of the McGill players to produce the play at the opening of the season.

A short history of the Players' Club was given by Evans during the meeting. He related how the Club had been handicapped by a marked lack of interest on the part of the students, but that despite the fact quite large, exceeding all expectations produced.

The Club was completely reorganized in February of '25, and since then it has shown decided improvement. Most of the plays so far, were only one act affairs, but Evans expressed his opinion that the Club will have a successful programme this winter containing some plays by famous authors. He mentioned "The Letter" and "The Boy Comes Home" as two likely choices, and says that the Club will produce a three-act play after the winter exams.

The attendance at the meeting was quite large, exceeding all expectations and on the whole the gathering was very successful. The next meeting was set for Wednesday, Oct. 20.

WINTER CLUB HELD INAUGURAL MEETING

Speed-skating Track to be Built

The expected speed skating track this year and the election of a new manager for the Winter Outing Club which is to be established at McGill were the main topics of discussion at a meeting of the club held yesterday afternoon in the Union. L. Johnston was unanimously elected to the post of manager.

In as much as this was the first meeting of the club for the year and due to the fact that it is yet too early in the season to commence activities, the attendance was not very large.

The speed-skating track which is to be introduced this year will attract many members to the club, it was felt at the meeting. In addition the establishment of such a track will provide facilities for practice for men who are interested in this phase of the club's activities. It was pointed out also that the absence of adequate training grounds prevented the club from making a better showing than it did in the various meets they engaged in previous to this year. This is a Canadian sport and richly deserves greater support, was the consensus of opinion.

The club will hold meetings in the near future to decide on the different meets it intends to enter.

New men in the university are urgently requested to join the club, particularly students from the other side of the border who are interested in winter sports.

In the Union Ball Room at five o'clock it is essential that every bandman be present at this practice, as new music will be practiced in preparation for the band's appearance at the football game on Saturday.

Mr. Houdini Will Lecture Here Tuesday

Mr. Houdini, the eminent scientist in the field of mysticism and spiritualism will give a lecture on the subject of "Spiritualism and Mediums" in the Union Ball room on Tuesday next at 5 o'clock. This lecture will take the form of a scientific discussion of this enthralling subject, in which Mr. Houdini will give experimental proofs that every medium known to him is playing a huge hoax on the gullible public. The lecturer is renowned among scientists for his accurate work in this field of endeavour. He has been for several years connected with Prof. William McDougall in his experiments, and he is also a member of a group of scientists who have formed a committee of investigation into this subject. The meeting will be open to the public after 5.15 so that the students will have ample opportunity to have good seats at the lecture.

SPEAKERS WILL CHOOSE TOPICS

R.V.C. Historical Club Elects
Officers

The R. V. C. Historical Club elected its officers at the first meeting of the session, which was held at the residence of Miss Louise Fair, the former president. Miss Vernon Ross was elected president. Miss Helen Half vice-president; Miss Isabel Craig secretary-treasurer; and Miss Marguerite Benny reporter.

Some lively discussion followed the subject of which was the program for the ensuing year. The general opinion proved in favour of leaving the choice of a subject to the discretion of the person reading the paper, it being understood that this subject should be of general interest. By this means it was thought that the merit of the papers would be increased, since the writer would naturally deal with a subject in which she herself was particularly interested, rather than one which has been allotted to her as in former years.

It was also decided, that as the various members were anxious to entertain the club, the meetings would be held at their houses. The serving of refreshments concluded the meeting.

MADE IN CANADA EXHIBIT AT MORGANS

"Paper Industry" Attracts
Attention of Visitors

This exhibition, promoting the Canadian Industries, is turning out to be a great success. The exhibitors, for the most part, being well satisfied with the daily returns.

Nearly every kind of article used in the building or furnishing of an up to date house is represented by 'Canada made goods'. Things that would delight the eye of a modern housewife, such as, modern refrigerating plants, Electric washing machines and other short cuts to comfort may be seen. A particularly fascinating exhibit showing the process of paper of liquid air.

Of course the all-important Canadian Industry of paper manufacturing is splendidly represented by several exhibits showing the process of paper making from raw material to the finished product.

Those interested in mechanics can find numerous exhibit of tools, plumbing supplies, and other mechanical devices.

By way of contrast one may observe large displays of candles, perfumes and preserved fruits, nor must we omit our favourite brands of tobacco and cigarettes.

For those musically inclined the Orthophonic Victrola will prove a great treat. There are also exhibits of various radio sets.

To give people some idea of the extent of the exhibition, we quote the area of floor covered by exhibits as 55,000 square feet.

Philosophical Society Meets

The Philosophical Society held their first meeting yesterday in the Arts Building. A full executive was in attendance and a short meeting was held.

It was announced by the president that another one would occur today at the same time and place. This was called with the view of drawing up a list of activities for the coming season. It is understood that several prominent speakers will address the Society this year.

COUNCIL OF PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE MEET

Pescott Murray Elected For Coming
Year

FRESHMEN HAZED

Orderly Parade Downtown
Commenced Seasons
Activities

The first meeting of the Students' Council of the Presbyterian College was held Tuesday evening. It was reported that all the dormitories were filled. Officers were elected and various business matters were brought up, after which the freshmen of the Presbyterian College were initiated.

Forty students are registered in Theology, and a number of others are registered in the various faculties of McGill. These students come from many provinces of the Dominion and, as well, from other parts of the United Kingdom, and it is claimed that freshmen are quickly adapting themselves to their new surroundings and an excellent spirit of friendship is manifest.

At the meeting the elections were conducted. Prescott Murray, was unanimously elected President of the Council, Agnew Johnston was elected vice-president, James Hendy, who handled the financial affairs of the council last year, was again elected secretary-treasurer.

The following appointments were made:—

Missionary Society:
President, G. J. Purcell.
Vice-president, Kirby Gilmour.
Secretary-treasurer, Alexander Nimmo.

Philosophical and Literary Society:
President, William MacDorm.
Vice-president, Ritchie Bell.
Secretary-treasurer, Lloyd Fulford.

Athletic Association:
President, Norman Sharkey.
Vice-president, David Kerr.
Secretary-treasurer, Foote.
Press Reporter, Archibald MacKinnon.

It was again brought up that students not registered at the Presbyterian College did not have representatives on the Students' Council. This feature was discussed, and it is the intention of the Council to arrange with the proper authorities to sanction the election of such representatives.

When the meeting was closed, although it was quite late, the freshmen were initiated. In a systematic manner about twenty were rounded up. First, they were brightly decorated and then dressed up for the parade. Headed by a freshman band and commanded by the seniors, a parade was held. The freshmen were marched along the main streets of the city and then left down town to find their way home.

MRS. MEAKINS DIED AT WESTMOUNT

Heart Attack Following Over-
Fatigue at Reunion

The death of Mrs. Dorothy Meakins, wife of Dr. J. C. Meakins, M.D., F.R.C.P. (Edin.) professor of medicine and director of the Department of Medicine at McGill University, on Tuesday night at her home, 61 Rossmount ave. Westmount, came as a great shock to her many friends on account of its sudden nature.

Mrs. Meakins was one of the hostesses at the McGill Women's Union dinner at the Windsor Hotel last Friday evening. She became over-fatigued and on Monday was taken ill. The following day a severe heart attack developed and she passed away that night.

Well known both here and in Edinburgh, where she spent five years, Mrs. Meakins was untiring in her social efforts at McGill University, her exertions last week making for the success of the re-union celebrations.

Mrs. Meakins was, before her marriage, Dorothy Brown, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. Fayette Brown of Montreal.

She is survived by her husband, Dr. J. C. Meakins, one son, John Meakins, who is at school at Lennoxville, one daughter, Miss Diana Meakins, and one sister, Mrs. Harold Hingston of Montreal.

Reunion Of Grads Here Attracted Many

More than 2,000 people attended the Graduate Reunion of McGill University, according to the Statement issued by Mr. W. D. McLennan secretary of the Graduate Society. Of this number only 1,312 men and women graduates actually registered, but including the wives and daughters who came with some of the out-of-town graduates, well over two thousand people were in attendance. 530 men and women graduates attended from out-of-town. Practically all went away with a higher regard for their old Alma Mater, and fully satisfied with the entertainment that had been provided for them. In another way also the Reunion was a success, for from present indications it is evident from the university will not be required, that is to say that no expenses will be incurred by the graduate society or the University. The executive of the Graduate Society, with Dr. Bazin in charge of the whole Reunion, under the name of the Reunion Committee, deeply appreciates the work done by the students who gave help at the registration office and also sent a letter of thanks to Eddie Casey for the kindness of his band in attending the Reunion Banquet.

FIRST JAZZ TEA THIS AFTERNOON

"Geoff" Simpson and Band
to Offer all the Favorites

A hundering is promised for the first Jazz Tea of the season which occurs at 4.30 o'clock this afternoon in the Cafeteria.

To cookie crunchers, bun bouncers, and library loungers, the Union this p.m. will offer an irresistible appeal. Much merriment and music can be found right across the rotunda after the conscientious voter (and those that don't) has done his electoral duty.

"Geoff" and the best little band ever banded off at the musical end of the occasion. Reg. Winn, of last year's Jazz Tea fame, is only one of an eight piece orchestral aggregation that supplied the dance and dinner programmes at Hotel Tadoussac for tourists during the past summer. The important fact that this outfit is one hundred per cent. 'Red and White' should be sufficient to draw a crowd to the tea.

A special gâteau (to be pedantic) is being concocted by the ever genial, though famous, Pierre and an extra effort is to be extended in the brewing of the finest teas from China and Lachine.

Shuffle along and slip to the Synchroton of Soothing Strains Supplied by Simpson and his Symphony.

Dr. Barnes Will Speak On Ice Engineering

A series of lectures on the subject "Ice Engineering" will be given by Dr. H. T. Barnes, F.R.S., beginning today. The topics treated will include: Ice Remedial Work, the Use of Thermit, Calcium Chloride, etc., Glacier Ice and Icebergs, Conservation of Heat in Lakes and Rivers, and Ice Prevention. The lectures will be at 5 p.m., this afternoon, and at the same hour on Oct. 21st, Oct. 25th, and Nov. 4th. They will be held in Room 210 of the Macdonald Physics Building.

Speaker is Returning From East After Lengthy Investigation

Sir Arthur Currie has announced his ability to be present at the S.C.A. Freshman Reception to be held in Strathcona Hall this evening. Details of the programme have been finally worked out and those connected with it preparation forecasts a most enjoyable two hours.

Supper is to be served at 6 p.m. sharp. This will be followed by community singing, and short speeches interspersed with musical numbers.

The presence of Sir Arthur Currie will be highly appreciated, particularly on the part of those freshmen who will associate with him for the first time at this function.

Among others at the head table will be A. O. Dawson, Chairman of the Advisory Board of the S.C.A., the Presidents of the Freshman years of all faculties and such leaders in McGill Undergrad. activities as Errol Amaron, President of the Students' Executive Council and Reg. Smith, President of the S.C.A.

The speaker of the evening is Mr. R. O. Hall, of the Secretaries of the British Student Movement, who is on his way back to England after having spent a year in China at the request of the Chinese.

While there he made a detailed study of existing conditions with a view to improving the relations between the Foreign element, both Missionaries and Traders, and the natives. He has a message which should be of vital interest to all McGill men who are following the trend of events in the strife-torn China today.

BARBARED

Indianapolis, Ind. Oct. 13.—(Bq Exchange Service)—Because they refused to buy freshmen caps or refrain from wearing their high-school letters, three freshmen were shorn of a few strips of hair at Butler University. Within fifteen minutes there were as many calls for the freshmen millinery.

Frolic Ticket Holders

Those that purchased pasteboards for the dance that "was to have been" Friday evening, will receive their money on presenting tickets at the Tuck Shop anytime today.

MONTREAL, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1926.

SNEAK THIEVES AGAIN.

It is regrettable that we should have to report dishonesty among McGill men but an apparent epidemic of petty thievery has broken out in the Union within the last few days. The thief or thieves appear to have a particular liking for the best and most expensive magazines in the Reading Room, though they are not above stealing any others that take their eye. Also, within the last few days, various articles of clothing, including an expensive chinchilla overcoat, have disappeared from the reading and billiard rooms.

It is humiliating indeed to have to admit that such despicable characters have gained admission to the University. It seems unfortunate that McGill should have to harbor men whose moral standards are so low as to allow them to steal the property of their fellow students, either their personal property or their public property, the magazines for which they are paying and which they expect to be allowed to read; men to whom honesty means no more than it does to the professional sneak thief or pickpocket.

We can have a certain amount of respect for the train-robber or the bank-bandit; he at least takes a chance for big stakes; but the petty pilferer who steals property from the reading room when nobody is watching, is too cowardly to merit consideration. It is not worth being crooked for a National Geographic.

Such conduct on the part of McGill men calls for drastic action. An official of the Student's Council stated last night that he would see the culprit expelled from the University if it was the last official action he did. The only way, unfortunately, that the criminal can be apprehended is through the co-operation of all users of the Union, and in the interests of their University everyone is asked to keep a watch for the thief.

As a training school for the future leaders of our country we must exact high moral qualities from our fellows. As men we do not want to feel that we have one among us who lacks the cardinal virtue of manhood, honesty.

DANCES AT MCGILL.

For the second time within the year another formal college dance has had to be cancelled because of an appalling lack of support on the part of the students of McGill. After almost ten days devoted to thinking out ideas for the staging of the 'Frolic', the committee in charge were forced to call off everything. During the two days the tickets were on sale but ten were sold. Now the question arises, what's wrong and where?

A dance staged in the Union is adjudged a success if all expenses are met and everyone enjoys themselves during the evening. Then, it seems, the motive in promoting such an entertainment is to gather a crowd of students together for the specific purpose of fostering a social spirit amongst McGill collegians. If this is conceded, the idea that a 'hop' is primarily a money-making proposition is entirely a misconception. Therefore, the price of the ticket is fixed so as just to cover the cost of the entertainment. Well, that does away with the argument of many undergraduates that the entrance charge is unnecessarily heavy.

There is one thing very obvious — fraternities, sectional clubs and divers other small organizations and parties about the campus contribute greatly to the existing conditions respecting university dances. A college dance helps more than can be calculated in suppressing 'cliquism' in the undergraduate spirit, and, if for no other reason, more support should be forthcoming from students at McGill.

HOW HAS MCGILL IMPRESSED YOU?

For a week now Freshman Regulations have been in force, and as in the past two years nothing has happened which would tend to injure a man's dignity or seriously interfere with his academic work. First thoughts, and early impressions are those which remain with us longest and the question now arises "How has McGill impressed you?"

We don't want you to come to McGill with all your suspicions aroused in the same rather timid, self-conscious, on-the-defensive manner of the average freshman. If you do this you will find yourself stuck in the rut, taking very little part in the glorious multitudinous of the average undergraduate, and remaining a sort of parish of your own making.

Freshmen themselves are forlorn enough. Everything is strange to you too, society, rules, customs, unwritten laws and faces. Freshmen are solitary creatures in the midst of a bustling crowd.

And as a rule, freshmen if they do not come from one of the great high schools and meet again as men the boys they knew there, their chances of making friends is small, and for many dull disappointing weeks, they must mope and look on, and envy, and find their feet alone, suffering from a hideous sheepishness, and wondering with a sort of morbid self-consciousness what others are thinking of them.

But be not afraid. We want you to come to McGill prepared to find it the finest place on earth, with your imagination stirred at the sight of these old buildings whose halls echo with the feet of the great dead, and ring with those of the younger generation, to whom life is a great adventure and who may spring from these old stones into everlasting fame.

We expect you to come through the Roddick Memorial Gates with your chin set high, prepared to serve old McGill with all your strength, and all the best of your youth and leave her finally unsullied by your name.

MRS. MEAKINS.

The Students of McGill unite in expressing their sympathy to Dr. J. C. Meakins, M.D. in the recent sad loss he has sustained in the death of his wife.

McWHIRTERINGS

Or
Big Business Speaks

Mr. Weatherby McWhirter lives in the same district as I live in — it isn't fair to say where. But I work in his office every afternoon and go home with him every evening — in the street car.

Mr. McWhirter is a self-made business man who has a car, which he doesn't use for business. He believes in the street car ads.

Notice the self-made designation. He is very proud of it. He is like many other business men.

He calls himself a "short-haired business man." He calls a university a school, much to my annoyance. He doesn't realize that the medical students in the "school" could in all probability cure his dandruff.

The rolling of a street car and the grinding of its brakes used to inspire Mr. Weatherby McWhirter to flights of eloquence. My delicate arguments served as tasty food for his pointed opinions. And our discourse used to be punctuated at regular intervals by the terrific noise occasioned by the car passing the following points:—

Guy street, Atwater street, Victoria street and Cote des Neiges road. Now don't try to guess who Mr. McWhirter is, if you don't know him. And don't worry about where he lives. It may be in Hampstead, it may be in N.D.G., it may be in Montreal West or Ville St. Pierre.

Phillips Square.

"Watcher taking up in school" asked Weatherby McWhirter to me as the car started off.

"Physics."

"Hm."

"English."

"Hm."

"History."

"Hm."

"Psychology."

"Hm."

"And Philosophy."

"Quite a bunch of subjects, eh? What are you taking them for? Just to get an education, eh?"

"Do you ever get anywhere with 'em? Do you know any more about them at the end of the term than at the beginning?"

"Sure thing. We learn formulae, and how things work and definitions."

"Don't you find that you quickly come across a stage in your learning where the Almighty says 'stop!'? Where you can't go anywhere but just theorize and often theorize wrong?"

"I don't know. Seems to me we know nearly everything about these subjects."

"Hm. That's because you're a second year man. I've heard about your second year men. Dean Tavish who lives across the road from us, used to tell me about you."

"Well, that's my impression."

"One of the big bugs in your school told me that he liked freshmen better than any other boys. Second year men was too worldly wise, third year men had laid out plans to reform the world, but when they became fourth year men they fell in love."

"Let's laugh."

St. Catherine Street.

"No, but seriously, it appears to me that all your ologies and etceteries are flops when you come to look at them. Now you take childlogy—"

"You mean child psychology?"

"No, ways of makin' children healthy an' able to fight the world and germs and those things. One year experts writes to the papers and says 'Feed the children on oatmeal and boiled eggs at one year of age.' And all public-spirited mothers do so until another expert comes along and say that anything heavier than bullion is ruinous to their digestive apparatuses."

"Bullion?"

"Yep. Bullion soup. Boiled water with a half a slice of carrot in it. Then they finds out that cow's milk is the best food until some Taddy doctor says that ninety-nine per cent of infant deaths are caused by feedin' them with tuberous milk."

"Well, I never took any courses in that stuff. I'm not going in for medicine."

"All right then, what about philosophy, which I have discussed with some of your professors."

Guy Street.

"First a feller comes along and says that we have what we have in us before we're born, and we can't change our province. And all the savings of the world fall for him and form a school and writes about him."

"Then another guy says that we're sort of half-and-half. That Locke man. Get some of our qualities before we're born and others after. And all the blinkin' students turn from the evil ways of the other one and make a school around Mr. Locke."

"You've got it all wrong."

"That may be. That may be. Then — just to show how far some of these chaps can go, along comes a bishop—"

a BISHOP, of all creatures, named Barclay, who has the sauco to say that nothing's real at all, and we imagine we're alive. Maybe Barclay was an Irishman, but even an Irishman—"

"Barclay — and you've got the name wrong anyway — its Berkeley — didn't mean anything of the sort."

"Well, that's what your professor told me, anyhow. And all the wise fools in Chistendom run after him and leave old Locke in the dirt. It took old man Johnson to stop their foolishness, and he wouldn't have done so if he hadn't fallen against a lamppost and found out that the lamppost was real."

Atwater Avenue.

"It wouldn't matter if your professors weren't so obstinate about present-day views bein' right. No sooner does one wop like Einstein come along than they all fall for him and make out that he's absolutely the bee's knees, as Marjorie says. If they'd only realize that they're no further than they were in the olden days."

"Maybe they are."

"You just wait, my son, you just wait. You'll see another philosopher crop up in a few years that'll knock Einstein and every other stine into the ditch and set up a new realm of bigotry. Just mark my words."

"Well, maybe your right."

"Now cast your pretty eyes at Physics. What do they believe in now?"

"They believe in Galileo's proof that a stone falls as slow as a feather—"

"No, no. I mean, what is the world composed of? Is it atoms or electrons? When I was young we generally thought that a table was a table and a chair was a chair, and so did them professors. But now they say that there's no such thing as a chair being different from anything else."

"Oh?"

Victoria Street.

"No. They're all atoms. One student was tellin' me that when atoms bunched together like a rugby scrimmage they formed a bit of dust. When they ran away on their own, they were just air. When they come together in trillions they became tables and chairs and things."

"You're talking through a hole in your hat."

"There ain't no such thing. Its all atoms. Just wait for a few years and some guy will crop up who'll say that its all waves—sound waves and such. And they'll all fall for it. Yes, sir."

"You've got a complex."

"Yes, that's the latest fad in psychology, ain't it. Psychology and joke columns."

"Its working out, anyway."

"I'll have its filing, same as evolution and atoms and foxtrots. You learn that question airs are the ultimate ways of determining human intelligence."

"Yes."

"Well they may determine my intelligence, but sure undermine it as well. They're going to reform the world, aren't they? They're strong in the States. No crime in the States, eh? They'll be solving all sorts of questions until some other big guy crops up and says that question airs are the bunk, and the only way to find out true intelligence is to give the victims an electric shock."

"You've done enough knocking, Mr. McWhirter. What would you do to remedy things?"

"Why, you got enough things to learn about without that. You set out to learn how to make up bank accounts and handle high finance, and make a rich man of yourself. Learn how to go through the streets without gettin' fleeced. Learn how and where to live, and live happiest."

"That" I said, "is done by amusing yourself with delving into the abstract sciences."

"Nonsense!"

"There's where your complexes are different from mine."

"Good job for you we're at Cote des Neiges road."

Correspondence

The Editor,
McGill Daily,
Montreal, P. Q.

Dear Sir:—I have been following the work of the Players' Club with much interest during the past two seasons, and with reference to the article written in the Daily of Tuesday last, I should like to call attention to the following omission:

Two years ago when the Club was reorganized on its present basis Mr. Coulborn not only was one of the leaders in that organization, but conscientiously fulfilled every duty and responsibility of its Directorship during the past two years, as President last year and Vice-President the year previous. He also has staged several excellent productions which have been enjoyed and appreciated by many.

In view of the time and energy which Mr. Coulborn has devoted to the Club and the excellent results he has obtained I note with considerable surprise that no mention of his name has been made. I think this oversight is in need of correction.

Wishing the Club every success and hoping that it will continue to do as good work in the future as it has done in the past, I am,

Yours sincerely,
A GOOD-WISHER.

The Editor,
McGill Daily,

Dear Sir:—In this morning's edition of the Daily the report of the outline of the programme for the Old Scouts' Club stated that the members would partake in the Gidwell Training Course. This is rather erroneous. It should rather be stated that the meetings of the year will be given to practical subjects such as Knotting, Bandaging, Observation Games and similar subjects given by experts and as they are carried out in the Gidwell Course. It was also stated that the Montreal Association was holding a training course to which all members were heartily invited.

Yours truly,
PHILIP MATTHAMS
President

HAMILTON TIGERS PLAY EXHIBITION WITH MCGILL HERE

O.R.F.U. Team Will Substitute For
R.M.C. Rugby Squad

QUEEN'S AT VARSITY

Outcome of Clash in Toronto
Eagerly Awaited by Local Fans

Hamilton Tigers O. R. F. U. team will furnish the opposition for the McGill seniors next Saturday while Toronto Varsity are entertaining Queen's intercollegiate champions in the Queen City. R. M. C. were scheduled to journey to Montreal on Saturday to meet McGill in their annual classic but following the fatal accident to the late Gentleman Cadet Tommy Smart the game was cancelled by the officials of the two colleges.

Hamilton Tigers, who are filling the breach, will offer plenty of excitement for the sixty minutes they are scheduled to play. Although the O. R. F. U. team is not given the rating of either the Big Four or the intercollegiate groups they are a team of high calibre that are certain to put up a strong game. They showed their worth in last Saturday's contest with Varsity O. R. F. U. team by giving the collegians a sound beating.

Interest, however, seems to be centered on the outcome of the Queen's-Varsity game at Toronto. Defeated by McGill last week, the Blue and White is counting on this week-end's game to establish them again in the intercollegiate race and playing at home they are certain of victory. They count on their heavy line to rip holes in what is conceded a weak tri-color defense while they expect to hold their own with anything Bill Hughes can produce in the back field. Their confidence has not been shaken by their recent defeat at the hands of the McGill team and they are entertaining high hopes of inflicting a defeat on the champion tri-color squad. Reports from Kingston, too, have gone a long way to reassure the Blue and White hopes, as it is stated that Gib McKelvey, Skelton and Pee Wee Chantler all suffered injuries in last Saturday's defeat at the hands of Camp Borden.

One thing is certain that if Varsity manages to beat Bill Hughes' squad next Saturday, McGill's chances in the intercollegiate race will be considerably raised.

CHESS CLUB HOLDS MEETING

New Men Urged to Attend Next Meeting

The Chess Club held their first meeting of the year yesterday at the Union.

After the work of the present year had been reviewed, elections were held to determine the officers for the present year. Alec. P. White, Theolog. '28, one-time secretary of the club, was unanimously elected president, while Max Garmaise, Retiring president, was chosen secretary-treasurer.

The attendance at the meeting was poor, only nine men turning out, as compared with a membership of thirty last year. All chess players, especially freshmen, are invited to attend the meeting of the club.

RUGGER PRACTICES START AGAIN

Players Busy Preparing For Saturday's Game

An English Rugby Practice was held on the campus yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. Owing to the bad weather and to a lack of information concerning the practice comparatively few men turned up. Those who were there, however, put in a good hour and a half running, tackling, and kicking in preparation for the game against the Montreal team on Saturday. It is hoped that two full teams will turn out today, as it is necessary to have one or two good practices before the game.

The following men are expected to be on hand at four o'clock in readiness to play: Ramsey, Evans, Noble, Reid, Grimes-Graeme, Angevine, Howell, West, Stirling, Knowles, Redpath, Starkey, Kincardine, McRoberts, Butler, Holmes, Hall, Donald, D. H. Seaton, Scott, Montclair, Donald, J. A. Playfair, Crandall, Campbell, Brown, Smith, McGoun, Owen, Connell, Blundell, Crawford.

Besides the above all aspirants are welcome.

SAILORS LOST OUT TO MCGILL ELEVEN

Soccer Team Defeated S. S.
Doric Squad, 3-0

The soccer team had an excellent workout yesterday when they played a team from the S. S. Doric. The score was 3-0. McGill had the better team and in every department of the game excelled. It was very pleasing to the coach Mr. Hay Finlay to see the newcomers on the team Maule, Brain and Watt make such a fine showing.

As a result of the trial game yesterday the team that defeated the S. S. Doric eleven will take the field against the Toronto Varsity squad at the Stadium on Saturday. This game will commence at 1:10 p.m.

The team has been very fortunate in securing an outstanding referee for this game, Mr. H. S. Lyons will officiate. Mr. C. Seaton will be a linesman.

The eleven chosen to play Saturday are: Amaron, Giovando, Maule, Kell and Helwig, Estall, Watt, Scott, Moffatt, Brain, Gavin, Reserve, McLeod. All the above players are asked to be on hand this afternoon at the Campus for a light practice.

MCGILL ROWING CLUB MEET

Will Race Varsity Crew Saturday
12 p.m. on the Lachine Course

McGill Rowing Club will hold its first meet of the season on the Lachine Course at 12 p.m. Saturday of this week. Varsity (Toronto) is sending the competing team.

It was originally intended that they should have a novice crew to match ours as most of our men have only been rowing one year. However, due to lack of time for practice they will be unable to provide such a team. Their crew will be composed of various good men.

It was also originally intended that Professor Lowden, Varsity coach, would cox his own team. This he will be unable to do as he is overweight. Mr. Moulmans, our coach, was to cox the McGill team. For the above reason Davidson, President of the Club, has secured Mr. Chalmers, cox of the Senior Lachine Eight, to cox for Varsity. Mr. Spencer, a hundred and fifty pound man and also of Lachine, will cox our team.

Jack Little, a member of the team, will be unable to row. The injuries he received in the Toronto McGill game will not permit him to. Glassford, on account of a sprained ankle will also be unable to row.

R.V.C. Athletic Managers

Assistant sports manager — R. Whitley.
Assistant tennis manager — B. Carter.
Assistant basketball manager — K. Runnells.
Assistant hockey manager — H. Gilman.

HERB MURPHY'S BISHOP'S TEAM LOST TO MCGILL

Intermediate Rugby Squad Beat
Lennoxville 14 To 6

STAGED FINAL RALLY

Red and White Seconds
Scored 13 Points in Last Quarter

The McGill intermediates staged a rally in the final period at the McGill-Bishops' game at the Stadium yesterday afternoon and came from behind to capture the contest 14 to 6. Trailing 6 to 1 at the opening of the fourth quarter the Red and White players staidied and by taking advantage of the breaks and playing smart football for the first time during the game they succeeded in amassing 13 points by scoring two touchdowns, a safety and a convert.

The whirl-wind start of Coach "Herb" Murphy's purple-jerseyed proteges literally swept the McGill team of its feet, and soon after the opening of the second quarter Klein of Bishops' got under an onside kick and fell on the ball for a touchdown, which he converted with a beautiful drop kick. Stung to action by this unexpected set-back the McGill players came to life but it was only in the last half that they reached their real stride.

The greater part of the game was played during a drizzling rain and as a result the field was not conducive to the best type of football. Fumbles by both sides were frequent but a surprisingly large number of these were recovered.

Lyall Laisley who played so brilliantly last week against the U. of M. did not turn up for the game and Robbins was called upon to do the greater part of the kicking. During the first half Klein of Bishops out-distanced his consistently in most of his punts. The purple and white also displayed a marked superiority in the other departments of the game during the initial periods. Time and again they tore through the McGill line for fifteen or twenty yards on the first or second down. They made yards several times on end runs and their running back of kicks and tackling was vastly superior to anything the red and white could do. In addition the backfield combined several times in some very pretty exhibitions of passing.

The second half was an almost complete reverse of the first. All that has been said about Bishops' applies equally well to McGill during the last half of the game, and especially during the final period.

McGill entered the third quarter with the score standing 6 to 0 against them. They showed more fight and from the very start took the offensive, but Bishops' held and all the red and white could do was to secure one point when Robbins kicked to the dead line.

The fourth quarter provided a thrilling finish. It opened with McGill on Bishops' six yard line. Klein tried to kick out of danger but the snap was poor and he fumbled and was downed for a safety touch. This was the turning point. Bishops' a young and inexperienced team, cracked and appeared to lose their morale. A minute afterwards Mabley made a beautiful thirty-eight yard run to bring the ball to the purple and white's two-yard line. Dalton went over for a touch on the first down but Atchison failed to convert. A few moments afterwards Bishops' fumbled on their twenty yard line and Manley made another spectacular end run to the two-yard line. Robbins crossed the line but McGill was off-side. On the second down no gain was made and then McGill was off-side once more. Bishops' tried to kick out of danger but once again Klein fumbled and Atchinson fell on the ball for McGill's second touch, which was converted.

Klein, despite his fumbles, played an outstanding game for Bishops' as did his team mates on the backfield and Capt. Rider at flying wing. While the quarter also deserves mention, for McGill Manley was outstanding. He turned in a fine game and before long should be ready for senior company. Dalton, Simpson, McBride, Atchinson, O'Meara and Robinson also played well at their respective positions.

Robertson was elected captain just before the game began.

Tournament Incomplete

Entries for the student vs staff golf match, which takes place at the Royal Montreal Golf Links on Friday, closed yesterday with an unusually large number of both student and professors entered. All those still desirous of entering can do so by handing their names in either to Miss Oliver or at the Daily office.

Those participating in the tournament are advised to get in touch with their opponents sometime before the match and complete all arrangements. It is also advisable owing to the early beginning of the play on Friday morning to catch the 8.25 train from Bonaventure station which arrives at Dixie in ample time for the start. The links can also be reached by motor by the Lakeshore road.

LARGE ENTRY LIST FOR FACULTY MEET

Fifty-seven to Compete in
Friday's Track Events

RECORDS IN DANGER

Javelin, Pole Vault and Discus Marks May Be Shattered

Keen competition is expected when all the faculties compete in track events at the annual Interfaculty meet on Friday. The entry list proper which closed last night shows a slightly higher number of competitors than last year. Post entries, accepted up to the end are expected to swell the list. All the men rest today while the track is put into good condition.

The first four places in each event will count for points, 5,3,2,1, respectively. All men gaining at least a third place win numerals. Coach Van Wagner has requested each faculty to choose a novice relay team. The event is closed to members of former intercollegiate teams and to those attending training table at present. The race will be run by four men to a team, and they will run in the following order, 220 yards, 440, 220 and finally 440 yards. Points gained in this event will count towards the championship.

Judging from performances on the track at practice, it is expected that several records will be broken. In the field events the javelin throw, the pole vault, and possible the discus records are due for a jolt. The mile event should be lowered, if conditions are good, and possible the three mile and the low hurdle may be changed considerably.

The entries up to date are:

CINCINNATI REQUESTS MILLION FROM VOTERS

Require $800,000 for Erection of Library Building

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 13.—(By Exchange Service).—A Bond Issue of $855,000 is requested by the University of Cincinnati in the November elections. $800,000 is necessary for the erection of a new library building which will house the entire group of libraries now on the campus. $100,000 is asked for a Central Service Building which will co-ordinate the shops and storage buildings now in existence. $55,000 is necessary for an addition to the present power plant which has become inadequate because of the recent additions to the school.

For fifteen years the University has been in need of a new library. Each year has brought a larger student body and an increased use of the library. Several years ago departmental libraries were established to relieve the congestion, but so rapid has been the growth of the school that these rooms, now used as libraries, are needed for classrooms.

A new library will contain several large study halls which will afford quiet study for students throughout the entire day. Now there are no rooms for quiet study, for they are in use some part of the day as class rooms.

Van Wormer Library was built in 1900 when there were only 455 students enrolled at the University. At present there are 7,500 students registered for work here. Therefore it can be readily seen that present library facilities are inadequate. Only 120 students can be accommodated at one time with present equipment. A library with many times this capacity will be included in the bond issue.

"I'll give you fifty cents if you'll wash your face," said the college professor to his small son. "Keep it and get a haircut," was the young hopeful's reply.—EX.

MECHANICAL CLUB MEETING

Varied and Interesting Programme For this Season

The first meeting of the Mechanical Club will take place at 5 p.m. today in Room 33, Engineering Building. This meeting is held with a view to electing officers and discussing plans for the coming season.

As has been the custom in the past, several trips shall be made to the most interesting industrial plants in the city. Those who made them last year will vouch for the great time they had, and a still more enjoyable one is promised this year. All first and second year men are invited, and a large attendance is looked for.

HARVARD PRINCETON PATCH RELATIONSHIP

New Haven, Conn. Oct. 13.—(By Exchange Service).—It was made certain after a conference here between Harvard and Princeton officials, that these historic rivals will meet in 1927 as usual.

Following Harvard talk of dropping Princeton in order to make room for an intersectional contest with the University of Michigan a conference was called to talk the matter over.

The new argument between the "Big Three" schools appears to be of a binding nature and probably insures a continuance of the meetings between them. Harvard has been a consistent loser to Princeton in several seasons past and relations between the two schools are none too amicable.

SOCIETY BRAND CLOTHES—MADE IN CANADA—LOOK FOR THE LABEL

It's the cut of your clothes that counts

A New Athletic Style for Fall
by
Society Brand

We call it the "wedge" cut, because of the wide shoulders and narrow hips. It's the most athletic style there is. Many young men prefer it to any other—and it's tremendously smart, when the cut is correct. No need to worry about that. You always find the correct cut in Society Brand Clothes.

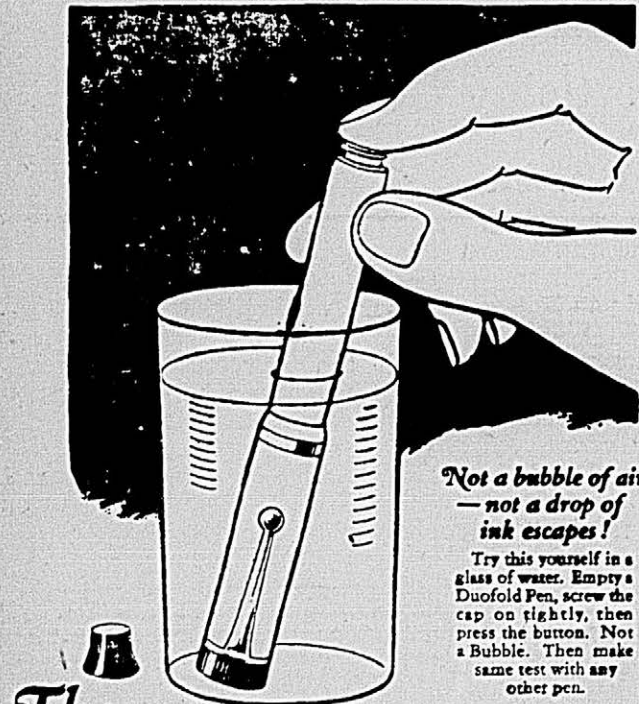

The Society Brand label in the inside pocket is your guide, not only to correct cut, but also to outstanding value.

Not a bubble of air—not a drop of ink escapes!
Try this yourself in a glass of water. Empty a Duofold Pen, screw the cap on tightly, then press the button. Not a bubble. Then make same test with any other pen.

The
Leak-Proof Test
Will Your Pen Pass It?
Parker Duofold
Does!

THE Parker Duofold Duo-Sleeve Cap has an Inner Sleeve that fits with micrometric precision when the cap is screwed on tight. Hence, not even air can escape—much less ink.

Moreover, the Parker Duofold point is guaranteed for 25 years not only for mechanical perfection but for wear.

And the Barrel and Cap are now of Non-Breakable Parker "Permanite" instead of rubber. This is a new, lustrous, lightweight material which does not break, fade or shrink.

Stop at the nearest pen counter to try your size and point. And choose your color—rich Black and Gold, or Black-tipped Lacquer-red—handsome to own, hard to mislay.
